Seminar on current laws and pending legislation to be held for Rolla-area businesses

ROLLA -- The Rolla Chamber of Commerce and the Rolla Chapter of the Missouri Employer Committee will host a seminar on legislation, laws and regulations that affect employers.

The seminar, titled "Current and Pending Legislation, Laws and Regulations Affecting Employers," will be presented to area business leaders at 8 a.m. Wednesday, September 26, at Zeno's Steak House and Motel on Martin Springs Drive in Rolla.

Speakers for this seminar include Jackie Woods and Ella Johnson from the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour Division, and a representative of the Missouri Division of Labor Standards.

Reservations are required for this informative program. The cost will be $25 (nonrefundable), which may be prepaid or paid at the door. Checks may be made payable to the Rolla Chamber of Commerce. Those wishing to pay at the door should call the Chamber for reservations at 573-364-3577.

Business owners and business representatives are encouraged to attend this seminar to learn about current laws and pending legislation that may impact their businesses. For more information or to arrange for special accommodations, please call 573-364-7030, ext. 141 or 1-800-638-1401, ext. 141.
